Matter of Electric Railroad's Spur Track Not Settled.

The regular routine business of the city council was taken up last night and a number of licenses were granted and bills ordered paid. The matter of a spur on the electric road at Dewey Park was then taken up as the members of the council visited the spot yesterday afternoon. Alderman Deady was in favor of allowing the road to proceed, but City Attorney Carleton said that the road had no right to build a spur without the city council's permission. He did not think it best to let them use the track for any definite time. The matter was laid on the table. Mayor Dawley said that the road between Heaton hospital and Liberty street, should be repaired as soon as possible. Supr. Roberts was present and stated that the road near the car barn was practically completed at a cost of about $1,800.

Arrangements have been made so that advanced pupils in the business course at the high school may be taken care of at the seminary. About 15 will take the course this year.

Men started this morning to lay a new platform on the Central Vermont railroad station. This planing has been pretty well rotted for some time and the new floor will improve the looks of the depot very much.

H. P. Converse & Co., of Boston who have the contract to put in the reinforced concrete work in the city hall have sent their men here to start the job. The first stone arch which has been laid over the windows was put in place yesterday morning.

Miss Eva Stalker, daughter of Mrs. Elmore Stalker, matron of the Heaton hospital, was united in marriage to William Arthur Bourne of Perry Sound, Ontario at 4:30 yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heaton. They will live at Perry Sound.

At the band concert last night several people had a narrow escape from serious injury when a horse, owned by Oscar Smith, which was standing beside the street suddenly became frightened and ran directly through the crowd of people. One woman was knocked down by the animal and fainted, but was more frightened than hurt and was able to go home soon after. The horse went into the crowd again where it collided with another wagon and was soon stopped.

Rules of Color Harmony.

Much sound advice on the buying of rugs is contained in an article in the Woman's Home Companion for September. In regard to color it says: "A floor should be the lowest or darkest tone in a room, then the walls, and the ceiling the lightest or highest. This is the natural way and the safest to follow as a general rule. It gives a feeling of firmness and solidity to the floor, whereas, if the order is reversed, and the floor is lighter than the ceiling, one feels that the ceiling is coming down on one's head and that dodging is the only way to escape a blow. The floor should support the walls in color as well as in fact, but care must be taken not to make the mistake of thinking that strength of color is obstructiveness of color. Strength of color in the right place will make the scheme of decoration a successful and satisfying one, but obstructiveness of color will make a hopeless failure of it."
"The chief color of the rug should be the chief color of the walls—not necessarily the same tone, but harmonizing tones of the same shade. If the walls are a soft yellow, a rug with different shades of brown, and to give the needed note of contrast, dull soft red and blues, would look well in the room. This kind of rug would also go well with green or blue walls. The proportion of the different colors in a rug may make or mar it for one's special use. In choosing a rug it is best to have a feeling of one adding the snap that contrast gives, and forming a harmonious and delightful whole."

A new floor for $1.40. A half gallon can of Campbell's Floor Finish will make your old floor look as good as new. This finish comes in transparent also with stain combined producing beautiful imitations of natural woods. Reynolds & Son sell it.

SIGNALS OF DISTRESS

Barre People Should Know How to Read and Heed Them.

Sick kidneys give many signals of distress.
The secretions are dark, contain a sediment.
Passages are frequent, scanty, painful.

Backache is constant day and night, Headaches and dizzy spells are frequent.
The weakened kidneys need quick help. Don't delay! Use a special kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, backache and urinary disorders.
Barre evidence proves this statement.

L. H. Hooker, retired, 101 Prospect street, Barre, Vt., says: "Since I first used Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago, I have recommended them to at least fifty people, and have heard every one who has used this remedy give it a word of praise. I suffered for a long time from kidney complaint and my condition finally became so bad that I was worried. My back ached most of the time and an annoying kidney weakness existed. I used every remedy that was brought to my attention, but without deriving any benefit, and I, at last, resorted to Doan's Kidney Pills. I used in all five boxes and was benefited in a wonderful manner."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

WILLIAMSTOWN

Thomas Sheridan is at work in Montpelier.

Prof. Fred W. Burnham has returned from his somewhat extensive trip abroad. Miss Dora Sheridan, who has been sick with cystitis, is now better and so as to be out of doors.

Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Edson of Kirkville, Mo., who have been visiting here for three months, are on their way home.

The Robinson water system is reaching farther out and taking in the residence of Theodore Wilford on Brook street.

Miss Flossie A. Tyler has been spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Thomas Sheridan, at the Mapledale farm.

There was a good attendance at the Giddy & Spooner vendue yesterday afternoon, and the property brought fair prices. The real estate was not sold.

Attend the union services next Sunday at the Congregational church, both morning and evening. There will be good sermons by pastors Strong and Roberts. Come out and hear them.

Miss Ethel Hyde is teaching in the quarry district, instead of in No. 7, which we understood, is taught by a Miss Colby. We have been unable to get a correct list of teachers, hence the error in the last list.

Mrs. Clara Hubbard was at East Brookfield last Sunday night at the time of the disastrous fire which destroyed the buildings of Silas Jones, on what was formerly her home place. They were the finest set of farm buildings in that neighborhood.

There will be a prize speaking contest at the grange hall, Friday evening, Sept. 10. The speakers in the main contest will be, Hattie Dickerman with "Nellie's prayer," Percy Jeffords with "The soft spot in 'T' 608," Hattie Sivright with "The bridge-keeper's story," Sadie Boyce with "How they saved St. Michael's," and Orville Walbridge with "The debating society." In the juvenile contest Lester Holt, Vera Gale and Neal Roberts will give a humorous recitation. Admission, adults 25 cents, children 15 cents.

CORN AND FODDER TIME.

Progressive Farmers Cure the Crop as They Do Wheat.

All through August and far into the autumn months, according to locality, the corn harvest will be under way. In the south it is called "fodder pulling time." Wherever corn is grown the season for gathering it in is always interesting. There seems to be more sentiment in the corn harvest than in any other. At the same time the work of stripping corn from the stalk and in stacking the fodder shocks is not altogether play. The progressive farmers of the northern and middle states are more expert in the saving of fodder than are the farmers of the south. The plan is simple. They cut down the stalks, blades and all, and cure them in the shocks as many farmers do with their wheat and oats.

Many southern farmers have tried the plan of cutting and curing in shocks and afterward snapping off the ears and shredding the blades and stalks.

For a year or two the plan was very popular. It looked as if it would be almost universally adopted. Those who were fortunate in getting first class shredding machines and who exercised ordinary judgment and skill in handling the corn crop in this way were delighted with their experience, and many are still following the practice.

For ten or twelve years the Georgia experiment station has practiced the cutting and shocking and shredding system, and this plan is still pursued with satisfaction. One or two years, owing to unusually bad seasons in

CORNHUSKING TIME.

September (a rare occurrence) or a little unskillful handling, more or less of the shredded stuff was badly damaged by dampness and heating. When sweet and free from damage the stalks, mules and cattle ate it freely, rejecting but a small percentage. Work animals and milk cows are kept in good condition on it, with no other roughage for months at a time. The stalks by this process are out of the way of the sowing of small grain. The refuse stalks are not left to be in the way next spring.

The illustration "Cornhusking Time" is the good old way in all sections, and, although it is tedious, it is always sure.

Quality in Farm Labor.

The time has come when the barrier known as the contract labor law should be modified so that farmers could hire the right kind of farm hands in England and northern Europe, advertising for them in a co-operative way in the foreign farm papers or securing them through American consular agents. First class men could be obtained if they could be legally promised jobs in advance. As it is now, only a few of the best class care to run the chances of coming over with no definite prospect in view, and the bulk of our immigration is not well suited to labor on northern farms. Immigration of trained, reliable help from northern Europe would help to solve the immigration problem and that of farm labor as well. Shift out the low grade immigrants, but take down the bars against those who make the best kind of raw material for citizenship.

Seeds a Cent Apiece.
Ginseng seeds are worth 1 cent apiece, or from $80 to $100 a pound. Dried root is worth $6.25 a pound.

When first growing from the seed the ginseng plants have two forks or stalks and one leaf on each stalk. The second year it adds another leaf on each part, and the third year the plant grows in three parts with three leaves on each part, and this year a seed ball forms.

This grows direct from the main stalk of the plant and from four to five inches above the foliage. The average plant produces from fifty to sixty seeds and sometimes goes as high as 100 seeds. Wild plants yield better than cultivated.

The fourth and fifth years one leaf is added to each stalk. The fifth year the plant is full grown, having three forks and five leaves on each stalk. It grows from one to two feet in height, sometimes as high as two-ty-seven inches. The leaves are broad and flat, about four inches long and two inches wide when full grown with scalloped edges.

It takes five years to grow the root from seed for market and eighteen months to germinate the seed for growth. There is more cultivated root now on the market than wild. The plants are found on high, dry land in the woods and never in swampy places.
Extra Tillage.
Probably no operation on the farm pays so well on the investment as the extra tillage requisite to secure ideal conditions. Clods rot the tiny roots, and vacancies between carry neither ready moisture nor food. Sometimes, especially in dry seasons, the difference in yield between a cloudy soil and one open, mellow, with available food easy to reach and moisture at will, approaches 100 per cent.

TOO HIGH!

Some people have the idea that the cost of Electric Light is too high—that it is expensive.

Look at it this way—If it is safer, cooler, cleaner and more cheerful and convenient than any other illuminant, isn't it worth more to you?

We can easily show you that our rates are fair as compared with other cities and lower than in many. And our service is constant and sure. The lights always burn.
